Need to sharpen your test-taking skills for the U.S. History Regents exam? Join us at Surpass!, a FREE afterschool program that prepares students for the U.S. History Regents exam in June 2015.

Last year the City Museum's Surpass! helped 23 out of 27 students pass the History Regent. The Museum of the City of New York will offer intensive training in test-taking strategies to help students excel at document-based questions, multiple choice, and thematic essays. Students will study core topics in U.S. History addressed in the Museum's groundbreaking exhibition Activist New York. The exhibition features material related to abolition, women's suffrage, labor rights, the Civil Rights Movement and more! Participation in this unique afterschool Museum program can be included in applications for college admission.
